

CITY OF CLAY NEWSLETTER

SPOTLIGHT

On Tuesday, Sept 2, the election results were certified! A New Season in Clay starts NOW!

I won this mayoral election by a slim margin and that tells me two things:

- 1) There are many in our city who see the need for change and voted for it!
- 2) There are many citizens who are waiting to see if this new administration can deliver its promises. Let's come together to work toward a bright future for our city.

Over the next two months, I'll be working to transition seamlessly with the current administration while keeping the end goal in mind: what is BEST for the city of Clay and its citizens.

WHAT VOTERS ENDORSED

Transparency. I take office on Nov 3. And I am committed to keeping you informed not just over the next two months, but for the entire time I'm in office.

Civil Communication. There's a lot of groundwork to be laid and many new relationships to be made. I know we can find common ground and work together.

Community Involvement. Here's where you come in! I'm making my list for our first 100 days. Can you respond with what you think needs my immediate attention?

JANE ANDERTON MAYOR ELECT OF CLAY, ALABAMA

The new members of the next administration (myself, Carla Youngblood, and Nathan Thomson) take office on Monday, November 3.
